2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA's data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by "TFS" (too few students).

What perception data did you use? [examples: student perceptions about school climate issues (health survey, violence, prejudice, bullying, etc.); student/parent perceptions about the effectiveness of programs or interventions; student understanding of relationship of school to career or has an academic plan]	GA Health Survey, Awards Events. Perception Data is determined by attendance and random survey data obtained by conversation with parents at end of event.
What does the perception data tell you? (perception data can describe people's knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, perceptions, competencies; perception data can also answer the question "What do people think they know, believe, or can do?")	The following is based on 2018-2019 data, as 2019-2020 data is unavailable. The perception data tells us that overall, our school is moving climate and culture in the right direction. This is also exemplified by our 4 star climate and culture rating. According to our survey data, many of our students have input in their learning. Most of the learners feel safe and supported most of the time. The learners have supportive and healthy relationships with their peers, experience rigorous and challenging tasks, activities, and projects that focus on higher order thinking skills and set goals for their learning much of the time and monitor their progress most of the time. Most students have appropriate access to digital, materials, and other resources to support their learning, and they receive services and support aligned to their needs (Likert Scales). On the AdvancedED Student Climate and Culture survey, 76% of the students said that their interactions with adults in the building were respectful, 65% said that their interactions were helpful, and 52% said the interactions were supportive. Students described the space in which they spend time at school as comfortable, bright, and open. A majority of students stated that at times they felt bored and tired while at school. A majority of students also responded that their teachers are honest, fun, and caring. In addition, 78% of the students stated that while they were at school they were learning. Finally, the school climate was 5 stars. The students took the Georgia Student Health Survey 2.0. 771 students participated in the survey. Of those 771, 84% said that they feel successful at school. 83% of the students stated that they get along with other students at school, and 88% of the students said that their teachers treat them with respect. 87% of the students responded that they felt safe at their school.

What process data did you use? (examples: student participation in school activities, sports, clubs, arts; student participation in special programs such as peer mediation, counseling, skills conferences; parent/student participation in events such as college information meetings and parent workshops)	Likert scale, syllabi, tutoring, mass emails, PD exit surveys, teacher goal setting, Wilson, MAP, Advisement, iXL, Classworks, USA Test Prep, Scholastic magazines, MTSS, data teams,

What does the process data tell you? (process data describes the way programs are conducted; provides evidence of participant involvement in programs; answers the question “What did you do for whom?”)	The following is based on 2018-2019 data, as 2019-2020 data is unavailable. The process data showed that again, our school is moving in the right direction. We have a variety of programs that help our students succeed. Our teachers are held to high standards for pedagogy and content knowledge, and their actions, words, and attitudes demonstrate the belief that all learners can meet high standards. This is evidenced by the fact that we have many teachers already using MAP data to drive instructional decisions and are excited to start goal-setting activities with students. Our instructional staff also demonstrates the impact of instruction with formative, summative, and other outcome data. Teachers use common formative assessments and programs such as iXL, Classworks, USA Test Prep, NewsELA, Scholastic Class Magazines, Schoology, and different connection classes (Wilson Reading, Remedial Math) in order to monitor student growth. Teachers also routinely review student data to inform instruction and monitor engagement.

What achievement data did you use?	MAP & Georgia Milestones
------------------------------------	--------------------------

What does your achievement data tell you?	Add MAP data and Milestones data
---	--------------------------------------

What demographic data did you use?	The following is based on 2018-2019 data, as 2019-2020 data is unavailable. We referenced CCRPI, AdvancedEd documents, PD exit surveys to obtain demographic data for population, ethnicity population, economic status, ELL, and attendance rate.

What does the demographic data tell you?	The following is based on 2018-2019 data, as 2019-2020 data is unavailable. We have had a steady decline in the economically disadvantage population. If this trend continues we will no longer qualify for Title I. Based on CCRPI demographic data, our school has 1,068 students. Our school is 74.7% white, 13.7% black, 6.8% Hispanic, 3.5% multi-racial, and 1.1% Asian. 44.9% of our students are considered economically disadvantaged and 1.9% of our students are English learners. Our attendance rate is 94%. The Safe and Substance-Free Learning Environment score is a 91.16. We were given an overall 5 star climate rating with a score of 89.80. We have implemented the Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports this year to improve overall student perception

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Strengths: Common planning, updated ELA reading list using stretch Lexile bands, consistent math instruction Challenges- Common assessments still not in place in all areas, utilizing MAP data, equitable ELA instruction
Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Strengths: A pattern of collaborative planning and input occurs on a scheduled basis between staff and administration. Leadership teams continue to provide overall feedback on building's strategic plans. Challenges: Limited planning time, limited number of Professional Development days.
Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs? Special initiatives such as Utah Math, Instructional Conversations Institute, literacy, and improved grading practices will be ongoing, new vertical planning opportunities Challenges: Loss of full time instructional coach
Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Strengths: A strongly supportive parent population. Challenges: The engagement of community members can be improved by encouraging key community members to participate in ongoing collaboration. Also, by increasing the number of formalized ways community members can engage in planning of long term goals. A greater utilization of the YMS PTO will be needed to increase parent involvement.

Strengths	Update Based on initial scores it appears that there was moderate growth in our special needs population for Math and Language Arts. This positive trend is an area of strength. We also have found that by integrating the special needs population into mainstream as much as possible that it positively impacts school climate and culture.

IDEA – Special Education, Economically Disadvantaged Children, and English Learners.

Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program.
